Good evening CAPTains!

Over recess week, many of us were seen studying for midterms, while some of us were spotted taking a rightful break from school and recharging for the second half of the semester. The Publicity Committee wishes everyone a great week 8 ahead. Without further ado, here's a look at some of our happenings in the College last week, and what's more to come.

PAST

Over 2 weeks, CAPTains donated their unwanted items from the OHS Welcome Gift, such as reusable boxes, drawstring bags and hand sanitizers. These items will go to the migrant workers and their family members under a bursary initiative, and surplus items have plans to go towards other community groups.

The 9th CSC would like to thank everyone for their contributions and cooperation for this initiative.

After recess week which saw many of us buckling down for midterms, the Student Affairs Committee partnered with University Scholar's Programme Welfare Committee to bring CAPTains some Midterm Munchies, consisting of discounted lunch bowls from Don Play Play.

SAC hopes the bowls brightened your day and gave you energy to power through midterm exams and assignments!
